SAVAGE CLAIMS PAYMENT

Court Case of Unusual Kind Originates at California

OTHER CASES ON TRIAL

Cornelius N. Savage, a hardware merchant of California, has brought suit against the National Life Insurance company of the United States of America, with offices in the city of Chicago. Mr. Savage's right hand was badly lacerated and burned at his home July 1, 1911 in a premature explosion of fireworks. The insurance company contends that he was engaged in a more hazardous risk than that for which he was insured. It is also claimed that he did not give proper notice. The case will probably be completed today.

Mrs. Emma Leaver brought suit against the borough of Monongahela for damages for personal injuries. She fell over a carriage block while crossing the street after dark and sustained a broken arm. It was shown that she was familiar with the location and that she did not cross the street at the proper crossing and therefore the borough was not liable.

In the suit of Alex Tazarek against the Pittsburgh Railways company in which Mrs. Tazarek asked for damages for injuries received in alighting from the car, the verdict was in favor of the company. It being shown that she was injured while attempting to light from a moving car, without giving the accustomed signal for the car to stop.

The cast of Emeriziana Coletta against the Ellsworth Collieries company a claim for damages for the death of Mariana Coletta, husband of the plaintiff, killed in the mine September 26, 1913. On account of the suit being improperly brought after it had been started it was continued.

The suit of H. B. Mathews against the Lilley Coal and Coke company has been continued.

CHRISTMAS TREES HERE

First Shipment Received at Local Station for Big Holiday Event

There are only 21 more days till Christmas, and reminders of its rapid approach are seen everywhere. A carload of Christmas trees arrived Thursday from Vermont for Monack brothers. The majority of the local stores are displaying Christmas goods in their windows and on their counters.

It was feared for some time that there would be a scarcity this year of Christmas toys because of the war in Europe but the stores seem to be pretty well stocked despite the war. The majority of the orders that were gotten in early were filled.

EXPENSES ACCOUNTED

Washington Party Folk Show up Things at Washington

TEMPLE SPENDS $1,136

In conducting its campaign in Washington county the Washington party spent $946.02, this likewise being the sum that was received by the party. Unpaid obligations are $255.70. The disbursements covered general campaign expenses, headquarters expenses and dissemination of literature, etc.

Henry W. Temple candidate for congress from the 24th district on the Washington party ticket, spent $1,136.08 in an effort to secure his re-election. From this amount is deducted $48.50 being the unexpended part of his contribution to the Beaver county committee. Mr. Temple gives a detailed account of all his expenses down as low as an item of 15 cents, which he paid out for car fare. He gave $225 to the Washington county committee, and $100 to each of the Lawrence and Beaver county committees. The greater part of his expenses was for advertising and printing. He paid $228.75 to the Public Printer at Washington, D. C. for printing portions of the Congressional record in which were speeches that Mr. Temple had made in congress.

T. B. H. Brownlee assemblyman-elect, spent $205 in securing his election. He was one of the fusion candidates. He gave $150 to the Washington party county committee. The balance was spent in auto hires, advertising and hotel expenses. He received no contributions and has no unpaid obligations.

WILLIAM BARRASS DIES AT DUNLEVY AT RIPE OLD AGE

William Barrass, aged 79 years, July 16 of the same year. Living now at two sons, William and John Barrass of Dunlevy and four daughters, Mrs. Robert Carman of Morceh, England, Mrs. William Parkinson and Mrs. Christopher Wright of California, Pa. and Mrs. Alex McCluckey of Monongahela.

Excepting ten years of his active life, Mr. Barrass was engaged in mining. He had for years been a member of the United Brethren church and his pastor, Rev. W. H. Shiffer will conduct the funeral services at the United Brethren church at Dunlevy at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Interment will be in Howe's cemetery.

MAJESTIC TO BE THE NAME OF NEW THEATRE

"Majestic" will be the name of the John Jenkins and George W. Risnew theatre of Fallowfield avenue to be opened by Hepler and Mathews about the first of February in the CharleROI. Second prize goes to Mrs. H. A. Assenat. More than one submitted the name "Majestic" but Houston was the first and Mrs. Assenat the second.

VETERANS OF LATE WAR TO HOLD REUNION

The United Spanish War Veterans the organization of Spanish and Philippine war veterans that is destined to take the place of the G. A. R. is to hold a state encampment in Johnstown in June, 1915 and is trying to get in touch with all ex-service men who were in service at any time or place between spring of '98 and July 4, 1902.

The largest camp in western Pennsylvania is Capt. Alfred E. Hunt of Pittsburgh which is forming outposts in all towns which do not have enough eligibles to form a full camp. In most cases where outposts have been found they have been able to develop eligibles for a camp of their own.

The principle of the U. S. W. V. is the same as the G. A. R., which is the only one on which a strong organization can be built.

There will be reunions of all of the Pennsylvania regiments, besides the Forty-seventh, Forty-second U. S. volunteer infantry, Eleventh U. S. volunteer cavalry, Seventeenth U. S. infantry and many other outfits at the Johnstown encampment and it promises to be the largest gathering of the boys of '98 and '99 held since the rally days of '98.

DEATH CLAIMS VETERAN AT MONONGAHELA

Vandergrift Hillman, aged 71 years, one of Monongahela's pioneer residents, and a veteran of the Civil war, died Thursday at the Memorial hospital. Death was due to tuberculosis with which he had suffered for years.

"Van" as he was familiarly known had been a resident of Monongahela practically all his life. In his younger days he was employed as a boat builder and in the stirring days of the '60's he responded to the call of his nation and served in Company H, 193d, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, being mustered out on November 9, 1864.

In recent years he was turnkey at the Monongahela lockup and his figure was a familiar one throughout the city. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Ella Roberts, Mrs. Nettie Curl, Misses Eari and Mildred at home and sons, George, Sloan, Wood and Norman, all of Monongahela.

Funeral services were held from the Hillman home in Railroad street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the Soldiers lot in the Monongahela cemetery.

Remember Him with a shaving set, smoking set, military set, or a pretty jewelry gift. You can find plenty to select from at Porter's Jewelry Store, 534 Fallowfield avenue, CharleROI. 124-42

BENEFIT IS NOW PLANNED

Ball and Reception to be Held by Fraternity for Hospital

One charity ball that according to present arrangements will be one of the most social events held here in many seasons is being planned. The purpose will be for the benefit of the CharleROI Monessen hospital and will be conducted by the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity of CharleROI.

No date has been set for the ball, but it will take place in the holiday season, probably between Christmas and New Years day. It will be a formal event and will be held in Night's Auditorium. At a meeting of the hospital board Thursday evening the offer of the fraternity to hold the dance was accepted.

DAMAGES CLAIMED

Sum of $25,900 is Asked by Woman in Suit Against Railroad

HUSBAND RUN DOWN

Tecia Crisus has filed a suit at Washington against the Pennsylvania Railroad company in which she claims $25,000 damages, on behalf of herself and as guardian for her minor children. The action is based upon the death of Adam Crisus, husband of the plaintiff run down and killed by a train of the defendant company at the crossing near Woods Run station. The accident occurred on January 13, 1914. It is averred that the defendant company failed to construct an adequate and suitable road as an approach to Woods Run station and have by reason of the peculiar conditions there existing, provided, it is claimed, by the defendant company, induced, compelled and permitted persons to cross over their tracks and roadbed at a point between Kent's store and Woods Run station. It is claimed the company is liable in not properly protecting said crossing. Adam Crisus left a widow and three small children.

Rev. Hann was married to Lydia King in Franklin in 1865 but it was not until early in the eighties that he took up the ministry. Rev. Hann was a self-made man, preparing himself for the ministry without a college education. His first charge, with the Methodist Episcopal denomination was at East Bradford, Pa., and his last at Allen's Hill, N. Y.

Rev. Hann resigned his last charge about three years ago, on account of failing health and moved to CharleROI to be near other members of his family. He lived in CharleROI one year, and then moved to Speers, where he has since lived and where his death occurred. At the time of his death he was a member of the Genesee Methodist Episcopal conference at New York. He spent 32 years in the ministry.

Had he lived until February 2, Rev. Hann and Mrs. Hann would have celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. He was prominent in fraternal affairs, being a member of a Buffalo lodge, Free and Accepted Mason, the Bradford lodge of Odd Fellows, the Bradford lodge of Maccabees, the CharleROI order Fraternal Patriotic Americans, and Post No. 144, Grand Army of the Republic at Bradford.

Rev. Hann was one of the old school temperance workers. He was widely known in the Methodist Episcopal conferences in the eastern part of the country and highly respected.

Arrangements are being made this afternoon for the funeral, and probably will be announced tomorrow.

EXPENSIVE FILM SERVICE ENGAGED FOR PALACE

Arrangements have been perfected whereby one of the most expensive film services on the market will furnish films for the Palace theatre. On each Monday evening one of the latest features of the Alliance program will be shown at the Palace theatre. The films produced by the Alliance company are all of a high class, each one being one of the leading plays with an all star cast. For next Monday evening the attraction will be "The Path Forbidden," a five part picture with Octavia Handworth and Gordon De Maine in leading roles. The play was adapted from the book by the same name by John B. Haymer.

DEATH OF REV. HANN IS SUDDEN

Heart Trouble Takes Off Well Known M. E. Minister

CAME FROM NEW YORK

Stricken with heart trouble shortly after arising this morning Rev. Johnathan Hann, aged 74 years, died at his home in Speers at about nine o'clock. Rev. Hann seemed in his usual health and took a walk in the yard after arising. Then he returned to his home and within a few minutes was dead. He is survived by his widow and two sons Thomas D. Hann manager of the Brownsville office of the Greensboro Gas company and E. B. Hann of Charleston, W. Va.

Rev. Hann was born in a suburb of Philadelphia in October, 1840. He was educated in the common schools and after that enlisted in the Sixth Independent New York cavalry. He fought in the Civil war three years and three months and was captured and sent to prison three different times. He was in Libby prison, Culpepper prison and Anderson prison, and was released from each through exchange of prisoners, to again take up service with his regiment. He was one of the volunteers for the planned raid of Richmond.

Rev. Hann was married to Lydia King in Franklin in 1865 but it was not until early in the eighties that he took up the ministry. Rev. Hann was a self-made man, preparing himself for the ministry without a college education. His first charge, with the Methodist Episcopal denomination was at East Bradford, Pa., and his last at Allen's Hill, N. Y.

Rev. Hann resigned his last charge about three years ago, on account of failing health and moved to CharleROI to be near other members of his family. He lived in CharleROI one year, and then moved to Speers, where he has since lived and where his death occurred. At the time of his death he was a member of the Genesee Methodist Episcopal conference at New York. He spent 32 years in the ministry.

An Artful Practice

The proverbial saying that "Saving is a greater art than gaining" is surely practical, because the average wage-earner of America gets a salary that more than covers his actual expenses—and yet the percentage of working men having bank accounts is comparatively small.

Are you one of these few? If not you should start a savings account and begin to practice the art of saving a portion of your salary.

A dollar deposited with this bank will get you into the habit.

AMONG THE THEATRES

LYRIC—CHARLEROI

Eileen Gardner and Harry Morey with J. Herbert Frank, Nicholas Maew, Gladden James presented "The Butterfly" in two parts at the Lyric. The butterfly got caught and did not fly. She and Ned were both glad. More so were they when her father came out all right and the led suitor took his leave. Margate Gibson, Alfred D'Vasburg, George Stanley and George Kunkle appeared in the feature production. "His Kid Sister." The sister was a chummy of girl and the right sort. She loved it in her loyalty to her brothers friend, whom she married. Bunny's Blackslide, in which Mr.

Bunny tried to reduce his weight was extremely amusing. Among the other good pictures of the week were: "The Plumber's Picnic," "The Fall of Muscle Bound Hicks," "The Wolf's Daughter," "The Tides of Sorrow," "Chick Evans Links with Swede" and "The Cub Reporter Assignment."

COYLE—CHARLEROI

"The Spitfire" and "The Only Son" were the Paramount attractions presented at the Coyle theatre this week. Jesse L. Lasky presented Winchell Smith's great story, "The Only Son" with Thomas W. Ross appearing in his original role in motion pictures. No. 15 the last number of the "Trey of Hearts" is on the program for Saturday night along with some other splendid pictures. Mary Pickford appeared this week in "The Stronger Love." The following three photoplay films were among those shown during the week: "Lover's Postoffice," "Curses, They Remark'd" and "His Musical Career." The following were among the other good pictures of the week: "Fall with Love," "A Woman's Secret," "Keeping a Husband," "Kismet," "That's Reef Party," "The Hoodoo," "Partners in Crime," "The Return," and "Those Were the Happy Days."

STAR—CHARLEROI

Manager Cowan is making preparations to start a new feature at his theatre about December 21. He is going to run the "Zedora" pictures. Each picture is complete in itself. "The Awakening," a Box Office attraction was presented by Edwin August in three parts. "The Vow" or "A Sister's Quest of Vengeance," a three part Nemo drama was one of the features of the week. "The King's Man," was presented by George Holt assisted by Charles Bennett, Billie West and W. J. Bauman. "He Loved the Ladies" was a Keystone comedy attraction shown at the Star. "Tough Night to Light," a three part Nemo drama was also shown. Other good pictures of the week were: "The Reckoning," "The Corsair," "Whiffles Double," "Forcing the Force," "Phantom Thief," and "Max Hiss Boxing Fever."

PALACE—CHARLEROI

This is a red letter week at the Palace theatre. "The Key to Yesterday," the opening number of the Alliance Program of Favorite Players, was shown Monday. Many of the worlds most celebrated stars are to be seen in the Alliance productions. They are taken from the authors' books which have been among the greatest stage successes. Carlyle Blackwell and Lola Robertson appeared in Monday's attraction, which was taken from the book by Charles Neville Buck. Manager Barnhart has just installed two new moving picture machines. The result is a clear steady picture without any change in the light. Another feature is the illustrated songs, the slides being shown on a screen within a frame at the rear of the stage. This weeks vaudeville is good. Cavanaugh and Shaw do clever singing and dancing act. They were recently featured at the Harris theatre in Pittsburgh. Majorie Snow is an amusing comedienne. The Mansfield's give a high class entertainment.

GRAND—PITTSBURG

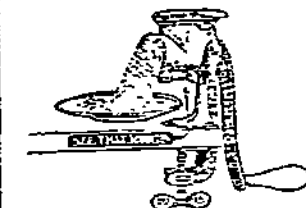

Uniformity of headline quality is the distinguishing feature of the program of vaudeville arranged for next week at the Grand Opera House. Nat M. Willis, who obtained his release from the Ziegfeld Follies to return to the varieties, will be here with his inimitable tramp characterization a budget of new parodies and comic patter. Irving Cobb's "Sergeant Bagby," a big act in every sense of the word, is made doubly interesting by reason of the prominent part Mr. Cobb is playing in reporting the big news of the European War. Bozeman Bulger, an old hand at play-writing has collaborated with the author in the dramatization of the remarkable story that first ran in the Saturday Evening Post, with the result that "Sergeant Bagby" is a dramatically impressive play descriptive of events at a reunion of confederates at New Orleans and employs a cast of seven people. Eddie Leonard, one of the ablest of minstrelmen and Mabel Russell a comely comedienne, will appear in white face to sing Mr. Leonard's original darky ditties, character pleasantly and humorously and perform soft shoe dances. Jarow the humorous trickster and originator of the famous "lemon trick" returning from a long engagement in Berlin will not only show some new things in magic but tattle at an amusing gait also. A brand new thought in animal training will be developed by Trevitt's Military Canines. Arnauld Bros., European tumbling clowns will play a variety of sweet-toned instruments besides indulging in comical cutups. These are only a few of the various high grade specialties that will comprise the bill for the ensuing week.

ALVIN—PITTSBURG

At the Alvin Theatre week of December 7 Fritz Scheff will appear in "Pretty Miss Smith" the new starring vehicle furnished her this season by Oliver Morosco direct from the Casino Theatre New York. It is described as a comedy with music. "Pretty Miss Smith" is a woman of marrying mood. Unwittingly she commits polygamy in marrying three men. While believing two of them dead, she meets a likeable fellow for whom she has a deep affection. Finally the three husbands decide to permit Mrs. Smith to choose between them and pledge themselves to abide by her verdict. She assents and without hesitation selects Husband No. 3. The other acquiesces with good grace and Mrs. Smith's martial worries are at an end.

Sydney Grant, Charlotte Greenwood and George Anderson lend support to the cast headed by Miss Scheff. There is a beautiful Casino chorus.

SPOILED BY LIFE IN EAST

Uncle Sam's Army Officers and Surveyors Miss Native Servants When They Return Home.

One of the members of the staff of army engineers who has just been relieved from duty on the Panama canal called attention the other day to an aspect of life on the isthmus which has received little attention in this country.

"I was born in the South," he said, "and I can just remember the perfect servants that my father had when I was a boy. I was too young to remember much about the conditions that prevailed on the big plantations before the conflict, but through my parents and most of their neighbors were ruined by it and had to curtail their establishments, the negroes who stayed in service retained the tradition of ante-bellum days for many years after the war."

"When I left my home it was to come face to face with the servant problem as it is known only in the North. I had forgotten that there was such a thing as a cheerful, competent servant who did not feel above his work, until a kind providence sent me to the isthmus. A Jamaica negro whom I employed as a man of all work about my quarters showed me depths of domestic contentment that I never dreamed existed."

"That man, I am certain, stayed awake nights to think up little attentions with which to surprise me. I never returned from a hard day on the canal so hot and tired that Christy did not succeed after a few minutes in nursing me into a good humor. The amazing thing about him, as about all good servants, was the perfect tact he displayed. His knowledge of my moods was almost uncanny, and seemingly he took a delight in anticipating the vagaries of my temper. Sometimes I thought he regarded it as a sort of game in which he matched his powers of pleasing against my bad disposition."

"Old naval officers tell of a man well known in Japan some years ago, who after 30 years spent on the other side of the Pacific, decided to revisit his native land. For months before his visit friends in this country received letters from him full of anticipation of good times. At last a letter gave the date of his arrival. The newspapers reported that his ship had made port, but the expatriate didn't turn up to greet his expectant friends. Instead one of his acquaintances got this note:

"Dear Jim: I arrived today, but I'm going right back. I'm hanged if I'll stay in a country where a man has to put in his own shirt studs."

"That tale may seem extreme to a person who has never known the luxury of life in countries where servants are plentiful, but since I have been to Panama and the Philippines I have come to have much the same attitude. It is a terrible jolt for an army lieutenant who has been living like a lord and saving money on his pay in the tropics to wake up to face debt and a hall bedroom in New York."

Old Custom Upheld by Law.

The quaint custom of "dowling tools" when a fatality occurs in a pit prevails at the New Moss colliery, Ashton-under-Lyne, as at other places in the English coal fields. Not long ago a miner met with an accident, and a rumor spread among the men that he had been killed. Some 30 or 40 men in the shaft ceased work, and the next day 200 failed to go to work, with the result that the colliery was stopped. With a view to stopping the custom the 200 men and youths were summoned for leaving work without giving notice. In this case the man was not dead, and damages were claimed for the stoppage of coal getting. The men marched in procession to the court, singing all the way, and were received in front of the court house by a large crowd of several thousands. After a hearing occupying five hours the bench dismissed all the cases on the ground that the men had proved the custom. The result was received with cheering in the court, and the defendants were demonstratively received by the large crowd on emerging.

As a Principle of Gravity.

Newton discovered the principle of gravity, he did not undertake to explain what the mysterious force is. Modern physicists are inclined to think that its nature is electrical. But Dr. John Mills, in a letter to Science, states the problem that is of chief concern to thinkers, is as follows: "Neither a quest for an 'explanation' of the cause of natural gravity, on the one hand, nor a mere non-logical acceptance of the fact as a matter of belief or blind faith, on the other, but the evolutionary development in the minds of men of a scientific satisfaction not only with not knowing, but with not ever being able to find out any rational and consistent theory or explanation for the attractive influence among all portions of matter which is called gravity and which is the essential, universal, and unalterable attribute of all material things whatsoever. Obviously, such a conception, involves rather more of philosophy and psychology than of so-called physical science."

Poor Quality.

"An' you were at MacDougal's last night—what kind o' macn is he?" "Leebral w' his whisky—but the quality o' it's that indeefrent I verra near left some!"

HAD SAME COUGH FOR SEVERAL YEARS

Woman Fifty Years Old—Coughed More or Less Since Childhood—Found No Relief Until She Got Vinol.

Dayton, Ohio.—"I want everybody to know what Vinol has done for me. I am now fifty years old and ever since I was a young girl I have had a cough most of the time, and sick headaches which left me weak and with no desire for food."

"I took all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally my druggist asked me to try Vinol, saying that if it did not help me he would refund my money. I felt so much better after taking one bottle I bought more. Now my cough is entirely cured. I have no more sick headaches. I have a good appetite and feel better than I ever did in my life, and I cannot recommend Vinol too highly."—Mrs. J. C. SCHNEIDER, Dayton, Ohio.

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply a combination of the medicinal elements found in cod livers, together with tonic iron, contains no oil and is delicious tasting. We ask every man or woman in this vicinity suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, and every weak, run-down person to try Vinol.
